DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE (late Army Medical Medical Staff) discovered a remedy, to denote which he coined the word CHLORODYNE. Dr. BROWNE is the sole inventor, and it is therefore evident, that as he has never published the formula, anything else sold under the name CHLORODYNE must be a fraud.

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—All attempts at analysis have failed to discover its composition.

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE is the sole inventor, and he has discovered no similar remedy.

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—All attempts at analysis have failed to discover its composition.

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE is the sole inventor of CHLORODYNE. Dr. BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE, that the whole story of the defendant was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say it had been sworn to.—See the Times, July 13, 1864.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when required. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effect and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively, using it in great quantities in the following diseases :—Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Colics, Coughs, Asthma, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Whooping Cough, Cramp, Hysteria, &c.

EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL OPINIONS.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians, and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was CHLORODYNE.—See Lancet, Dec. 31, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay :—"CHLORODYNE is almost valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after 18 months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed."

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports (Dec. 1865,) that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE was administered, the patient recovered.

Extract from Medical Times, Jan. 12, 1866.—"CHLORODYNE is prescribed by scores of orthodox medical practitioners. Of course it would not thus be singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—The immense sale of this remedy has given rise to many unscrupulous imitations.

N.B.—Every bottle of genuine CHLORODYNE bears on the Government stamp the name of the inventor.

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE.

The Elms, North Cheam, Surrey, S. 4th March, 1875.

"SIR,—I had been suffering from rheumatism for several years, together with scorbutic eruption on the skin, of a local nature, about the size of the palm of the hand, and was induced about the size of the palm of the hand, and was induced to try your Blood Mixture in consequence of two gentlemen in my neighbourhood having been cured of obstinate sores on the body. After taking two bottles, I became much better, and continued it up to the tenth bottle, when I found the rheumatism had left me, and my arm was healed. I consider it a most valuable medicine.

HOW to PREVENT THREE GREAT SCOURGES of LIFE—CONSUMPTION, BLOOD POISONS, & EPIDEMICS by pleasant, simple, and natural means. In an able paper published in the pages of the "British Medical Journal," Dr. R. D. Lalor shows how the derangement almost invariably precedes Consumption. By using the FRUIT SALT the blood is kept pure (by natural means), and the deposit of tubercular matter is prevented.

LORD BEACONSFIELD justly stated the other day that the health of the people is really the foundation upon which all their happiness and power as a State depend. For the most practical mode of preventing disease and premature death see

ENO'S FRUIT SALT.

As an invigorating beverage (prepared from sound ripe fruit), it is the best preventive and cure for biliousness, sick headache, skin eruptions, impure blood, pimples on the face, giddiness, fevers, feverishness, mental depression, want of appetite, sourness of the stomach, constipation, vomiting, thirst, &c., and to remove the effects of errors of eating and drinking.

PREVENTABLE DISEASES—APPALLING FACT!—Every year a great battle is fought in our midst (almost without a protest), in which twenty thousand are slain and a hundred thousand wounded from scarlet fever alone. True, but horrible. Can this fearful slaughter and sick-list not be prevented? Yes! Why not? Read a handy illustrated sheet given with each bottle of ENO'S FRUIT SALT. The information is invaluable.

PREVENTABLE DEATH.—Why should fever, that vile slayer of millions of the human race, not be as much shunned as Asiatic cholera, by which twenty thousand are the solitary wretch who causes his fellow a violent death? The murderer, as he is called, is quickly made example of by the law. Fevers are almost universally acknowledged to be preventable diseases: how is it that they are allowed to level their thousands every year and millions to suffer almost without protest? The most culpable carelessness must be struck with the huge blunder. Who's to blame? For the means of preventing premature death from disease, use ENO'S FRUIT SALT, (one of Nature's own products) keeps the blood pure, and it is thus of itself one of the most valuable means of keeping the blood from fevers and blood poisons, liver complaints, &c., ever discovered. As a means of preserving and restoring health, it is unequalled, and is in universal use throughout the world as a refreshing beverage. After a patient and careful observation of its effects when used, I have no hesitation in stating that, if its great value in keeping the body healthy were universally known, not a household in the land would be without it, nor a single travelling trunk or portmanteau but would contain it.—J. C. ECO.

ENO'S FRUIT SALT.—"Amongst the many and varied medicinal discoveries of the nineteenth century none, perhaps, has advanced so rapidly into public notice as ENO'S FRUIT SALT. Comparatively unknown some year or so ago, this preparation, which is made from sound ripe fruit, is now met with in every quarter of the globe. The great merit which is claimed for it is that it keeps the blood pure and the system perfectly clean, and thus takes away the groundwork of malarious diseases so common to towns and districts which are ill-drained. There is little doubt but that the time will eventually come when fevers and diseases resulting from poisoned blood will be considered as offences against the well-being of communities at large; but we will, in all probability be some while yet before it shall have arrived at such a pitch of sanitary perfection. Meanwhile, we cannot withhold a welcome to any specific which may prove a means of preserving or restoring health. The simpler the better, so long only as it is effectual. ENO'S FRUIT SALT has been found an excellent corrective to the digestive organs, and in the colonies, in India, and in South America, has a largely increasing sale. A blessing to the human race," and amongst the Good Templars—a numerous community all over the world—it is recognised not only as a refreshing but also as a stimulating drink."—European Mail. Nov. 1, 1877.

ENO'S FRUIT SALT.—A lady writes:—"Everything, medicine or food, ceased to act properly for at least three months before I commenced taking it: the little food I could take generally vomited me or returned. My life was one of great suffering, so that I must have succumbed before long. To me and our family it has been a great earthly blessing."

ENO'S FRUIT SALT.—M.D. (EDIN.) and M.R.C.S., L.A.C., London, writes:—"I am much pleased with your Fruit Salt, having tried it on myself. Your theory and remarks are most reasonable. Having nearly died of Typhoid, when studying at College, being the only one out of sixteen who recovered, I mean to go in well for purifying the blood. Though I am sixty-three, I have not the least doubt it will be very serviceable to me."

ENO'S FRUIT SALT.—A gentleman writes:—"I feel quite certain if your FRUIT SALT were known in INDIA and the COLONIES, that the sale would not be limited to thousands of bottles per annum, but MANY MILLIONS. INDIA alone would be more than all England."

ENO'S FRUIT SALT.—"14, Rue de la Paix. Paris, Jan. 16, 1877.—A gentleman called in yesterday. He is a constant sufferer from chronic dyspepsia, and has taken all sorts of mineral waters. I recommended him to give your Salt a trial, which he did, and received great benefit. He says he never knew what it was to be without pain until he tried your Salt, and for the future shall never be without it in the house.—M. BERAL."

TO PARENTS.—This preparation is invaluable in the nursery as a gentle laxative: it is pleasant to the taste, and much superior to senna or other nauseous drugs; it corrects the effects of over-eating, or exhaustion, and in extremely beneficial in any feverishness or heat of the skin. The bowels ought to be kept free by the "Fruit Salt" for a month or six weeks after eruptive diseases, as Measles, Scarlet Fever, Chicken-Pox, Small-pox, and all fevers or infectious diseases, &c.; for its use frees the system of the "dregs." Many disastrous results would be avoided by attending to this.

CAUTION.—Examine each Bottle and see the Capsule is marked "ENO'S FRUIT SALT." Without it you have been imposed on by a worthless imitation. TRADE MARK—"ENO'S FRUIT SALT." FRUIT SALINE, OR FRUIT POWDERS.—Sold by all Chemists. Price 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d.

STEAMER REPORTS.

GALLE, Dec. 26, 7-40 A. M.

French Steamer Ansdyr, from China, arrived.

MR. GIBBS left Bombay yesterday evening for Calcutta, and will be absent for about ten days. It is understood that one object of Mr. Gibbs's journey is to confer with the Government of India on some still undetermined points in the New Port Trust Bill.

WE hear from the Volunteer Camp of Exercise at Khandalla that Major L. H. Bayley and Lieutenant Dunne rode out on the morning of Christmas Day to see the tents pitched for the G. I. P. Railway Volunteers, who are expected to muster nearly 300 strong at Lanowli. They were to arrive there yesterday and to-day. The Bombay Volunteers are now all assembled at their camp. To-morrow (Friday) evening the officers of the G. I. P. force dine with the officers of the Bombay corps at Khandalla.

THE following translation of the reply of Diwan Ram Jas on the part of the Punjab Chiefs, to the speech addressed by His Excellency the Viceroy to the Native troops, has been sent to the Lahore paper by a native gentleman who was present:—"Every word of your Lordship's speech deserves a thousand thanks from us. Your Excellency's first proclamation addressed to the Sirdars and other people of Afghanistan was an expression of the same noble feelings towards them, as was the proclamation of the Imperial Majesty the Empress of India and Queen of England in 1857, granting protection and safety to about 500,000 of Oudh mutineers on condition of their surrendering their arms. Your Lordship's present speech has extended to him the desired mercy, even as life-giving water to the root of a dried tree. Should Providence not have destined his total ruin, he will listen to this kind admonition, or otherwise himself and his country will be swept away. The very kind words expressed for the subjects of India, especially for the Native Chiefs of the Punjab, have contributed highly to their honour and dignity. The humble forces offered by us are but as a bunch of flowers prepared by his gardener for a sublime monarch. That the prosperity and prestige of the British Government may be ever on the increase, is the humble prayer of us its loyal feudatories and subjects."

THE Civil and Military Gazette—Some surprise was generally felt at the publication of the resolution of the Bombay Government to stop all public works in the Bombay Presidency, except such as are nearly completed or which are of the nature of repairs which could not be postponed. While there is any intention to take such a very important financial step as the stopping of public works, the Government of India usually takes the lead by publishing a resolution on the subject, and local Governments are instructed to carry out the wishes of the Supreme Government; but in the present instance Sir Richard Temple has, apparently, issued the resolution to stop public works in the Bombay Presidency on his own authority. There is nothing yet made known to show that the Government of India have any intention to stop public works throughout India, and some explanation is needful in this course which the Governor of Bombay has just taken. Sir R. Temple has assigned no reason for what he has done, nor does it seem probable that any other local Government will issue the same instructions regarding public works. Why, then, has Sir Richard Temple acted in this apparently independent way?

THE Madras Mail:—Shere Ali has only himself to thank for his dethronement. The threats of the Russian press, or, for that matter, of the Russian Government itself, will not now avail to check the advance of our armies. Prince Gortschakoff has been promptly summoned to explain the meaning of General Kaufmann's recent letter to the Amir; and the Russian Mission is now being withdrawn from Kabul, taking the old Amir along with them apparently. In Turkestan Shere Ali is hardly likely to refrain from intriguing, but the simplest means of preventing Russia's meddling in Afghan affairs would be by supplying the Chinese in Cashgar with Snider rifles and a dozen British officers to drill their men and command them in battle. What Col. Gordon was able to effect with the "ever victorious army," shows what can be done with the very promising Tartar material. The Russian soldiers in Turkestan are doubtless good troops, but they are too few in number to keep open their communications with head-quarters. Almost without striking a blow they might be constrained by starvation to abandon their advanced posts, and to break up the network of fortresses by which they cover their advance and hold every additional step they have gained. It is always lawful to fight with the weapons of the Russians could not justly complain if we turned upon themselves the procedure that proved so successful in Servia.

THE Zukkur Kheyls, says the Lahore paper, "who have been generally the most hostile of the tribes towards us, and who were chiefly concerned in the recent attacks on our camps at Ali Musjid, are by this time likely to have met with signal punishment. Their head-quarters is a village in the Terek valley about 10 miles S. W. of Ali Musjid, of difficult access, and its inhabitants have hitherto plundered and marauded with considerable immunity. It was decided some days ago that this tribe should meet with an immediate and vigorous punishment, and for this purpose it was arranged that a column of 1,200 men from the 1st and 2nd Divisions at Jamrud, with a mountain battery and 3 Horse Artillery guns on elephants, should, passing Ali Musjid, make a night march on Bazar, the name of the village in question, and surprise it at dawn. Another column of 1,000 men was to cooperate from Daka, turning south into the hills at Lundi Khana and reaching the head of the valley with the object of cutting off all escape. The troops were to carry three days' provisions."

A CORRESPONDENT of the Madras Mail writes:—"May we soon expect Sir Neville Chamberlain back to Madras, or not? For it appears during his absence quite a new scheme has been introduced into the service, namely, that of giving acting or officiating commands of regiments to very junior officers. Three regiments in the Madras Presidency are now commanded by men of 22, 21, and 20 years service, while all their seniors both in age and service, are without commands. This was never done in good Sir Neville's reign—he gave commands to the senior Colonels as long as they were fitted for the post. If not, they were honestly told so, threw up the sponge, and retired, whereas men who have been holding on for years with the hope and expectation of getting commands, have now no chance of getting their hopes realized for years. I don't grudge young local Lieutenant Colonels their commands, when their turn comes, according to seniority, but I must say I think it is an injustice promoting them out of their turn, with detriment to their seniors in age and service. One of the officers in question was promoted from officiating second in command, to second in command and command of the regiment at once, and still holds it."

THE Madras Times:—We learn that the distress occasioned by the floods in Vizagapatam have been very severe. So far as lists are already made out it is said that three thousand houses have been destroyed and two hundred lives lost. It is believed when the facts are all known, that ten thousand houses will be found to have been destroyed, and at least three hundred lives. We understand that grants-in-aid of supporting the people in greatest distress and slight aid towards rebuilding houses have been made out of the small balance of the Famine Relief Fund still available.

THE Englishman:—We are glad to notice that so far as can be inferred from the Departmental Reports, important work of conserving and restoring the forests of Bengal is being accomplished without oppression to the people. Forest conservation by the State means the curtailment or abolition of many wasteful rights formerly enjoyed by the villagers and tribes. Some conflict between the old local customs and the new principles of conservation is inevitable. The Departmental reports appear to show that this conflict has in Bengal been reduced to a minimum, and the fewness of the prosecutions for breach of forest rules supports this favourable view. But we should like to have fuller information on the subject, and we hope that it will be treated with ampler detail in subsequent years.

THE Madras correspondent of the Lahore paper writes—"There have been three dances in Madras already this season. One—a small one at Government House, given on the usual cheap and nasty scale. No supper and go away at 11 o'clock; the others were private ones, but nearly everybody in the place was invited to them. The second one given, by eight bachelors, was about the best ball Madras has known, and dancing was kept up till four in the morning, quite reminding us of the good old days here when 'early dances' would have been scoffed at."

MR. J. B. KNIGHT, of the firm of Newman and Co., has been appointed a member of the Bengal Legislative Council in the place of the late Mr. Jennings.

THE Deccan Herald—Colonel Crawford, who is well-known to people in India from his connection with the Castra colonization scheme, met with a severe accident just before the last mail left Tasmania. He had a fall from his horse, and four ribs were broken. He was in a critical state, but appearances were on the whole favourable to his rallying.

THE Madras Mail:—Advertise by all means, it is in our humble opinion almost a panacea for every want of man, but read your advertisements over carefully before sending them to press. We read in our own columns, for instance, "Wanted a post as nursery governess to take charge of children as companion to any lady or to be a Housekeeper. Apply to the Revd. ——— &c." What has the reverend gentleman been about that he wishes to resign his sacred function and become a nursery governess or companion to any lady? Quarrelled with the bishop; or his congregation, or what? We advise him to think it matter well over "and bear the ills he has rather than fly to others that he knows not of" before he finally decides. Nursery governess might be bearable, but companion to any lady? It shows a Catholic spirit and wonderful pluck.

THE following advertisement appears in some of the London papers:—"WHISTLER v. RUSKIN.—Mr. Ruskin's costs.—A considerable opinion prevailing that a life-long honest endeavour on the part of Mr. Ruskin to further the cause of Art should not be crowned by his being cast in costs to the amount of several hundreds of pounds, the Fine-art Society have agreed to set on foot a subscription to defray his expenses arising out of the late action.—148, New Bond-street, London."

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—Glad Tidings.—Sometimes constitutions have a tendency to rheumatism, and are throughout the year borne down by its protracted tortures. Let such sufferers bathe the affected parts with warm brine, and afterwards rub in this soothing Ointment. They will find it the best means of lessening their agony, and, assisted by Holloway's Pills, the surest way of overcoming their disease. More need not be said than to request a few days' trial of this safe and soothing treatment, by which the disease will ultimately be completely swept away. Pains that would make a giant shudder are assuaged with ut difficulty by Holloway's easy and inexpensive remedies, which comfort by moderating the throbbing vessels and calming the excited nerves.

THE Japanese man-of-war Seikie, 980 tons, Captain R. Inowyes, carrying five guns, arrived in Bombay harbour yesterday from Aden, which port she left on the 16th inst. We hear that she will stay here about a fortnight, when she proceeds to Colombo.

CHRISTMAS DINNERS.

AT THE GOVERNMENT WORKHOUSE.

THE European inmates of the Government Workhouse, who number about 40, were treated to a Christmas dinner from contributions received by the Governor of the Workhouse, Captain Walshe, for that purpose, which have been duly acknowledged. At about 2 p.m. on Christmas day the men sat down to a good and substantial English dinner. All mere formality and ceremonies were dispensed with, and the men did ample justice to the good things that were provided for them. In addition they were each served with a bottle of the best beer and a pound of good American tobacco. Some of the men, on behalf of themselves and the others, expressed their gratitude to the gentlemen who contributed towards the dinner,—heartily thanking Captain Walshe for the interest he had taken to make them happy, at least for that day. The men were also treated to a good breakfast as well.

STRANGERS' HOME.

THE annual Christmas dinner to the inmates of the Strangers' Home was as usual quite a success. The hall was tastefully decorated with evergreens and a choice collection of flowers, surmounted with monograms and designs appropriate to the occasion. Every crevice and corner bore some motto. The inmates, 38 in number, sat down to a sumptuous dinner at 4 p.m. at which hour the Secretary, Mr. G. W. Moultrie, arrived, when the following short address of welcome was presented to him:—

"SIR,—It has long been our desire to present you with a few words of welcome, but we postponed it to this auspicious day, imagining that you would grace our hall with your presence, and we cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing to you our gratitude for your kind visit of this evening. We congratulate ourselves in having you, Sir, for our Secretary, for in you, we know, our comforts are secured, our interests upheld, and prosperity to the 'Home' will accrue by your continuance in that office. We hail your presence amongst us this evening with delight. There are amongst us some whom stern misfortune has visited with its unsparing rod, nevertheless we set aside our troubles for the nonce, and drink your health, sincerely wishing you and your's every happiness and prosperity."

The Secretary briefly replied, that he received the address with much pleasure, and was delighted to see such good feeling and order prevailing in the institution. He drew attention to the fact that this day was the anniversary of something far greater and more important than a Christmas dinner, that he trusted one and all would gratefully bear this in mind. He thanked them for the expression of their kindly feeling towards himself, and particularly alluded to the excellent management of the Superintendent of the Home (Mr. McCarthy,) concluding by wishing them all a "Merry Christmas" and a prosperous new year!

The customary loyal toasts were drunk, followed by three hearty cheers for his Excellency the Governor of Bombay, the patron of the institution, the donors and subscribers, the committee, the Press (who had cheerfully assisted the Home), the Secretary (Mr. Moultrie), and last, but not least, the health of their worthy Superintendent. The latter then called for three cheers for the untried, and inexperienced Mrs. Brohwe, who, though absent, was nevertheless still remembered kindly by the inmates. This toast was responded to heartily, and thus ended a pleasant evening.

ROYAL ALFRED SAILORS' HOME.

THE Christmas treat at this institution was attended with very great success. The Home and its approaches were tastefully decorated with banners, flags, and the usual Christmas devices which the taste of the committee had judiciously improvised; and the tout ensemble was rendered as attractive as the heart of Jack ashore could desire. With the 55 boarders at the home, 42 blue jackets and marines from the Vulture, the 16 of the Clan Fraser, and some half a dozen petty officers, who had been invited as guests, about 120 men sat down to dinner at 2 p. m. in the presence and under the kind patronage of members of the committee and other European gentlemen, among whom were observed Captain Morland, an esteemed citizen, who returned to Bombay the same day by the Clan Fraser, Captain Carew; Captain Parker; Captain Clarke; Captain Brebner, the Honorary Secretary; and Mrs. and the Rev. Mr. Evans, harbour chaplain, and by some ladies. Grace was said by Mr. Evans, when a strong band, engaged for the occasion by the committee, struck up the melody the "Roast Beef of Old England." The bill of fare was ample enough to please and dainty enough to delight the most fastidious of tastes. Several loyal and complimentary toasts were drunk. The "Queen," and the patron of the Home, H. R. H. the Duke of Edinburgh, were proposed by Captain Brebner, which were heartily responded to by the men. The toasts of the Army and Navy were not forgotten. Captain Morland addressed the men in kindly, genial words, which, at this festive season, could not fail to awaken feelings of thankfulness and pleasant reminiscences of life passed in the old country. Captain Morland proposed the health of the honorary secretary and that of the Superintendent, Mr. C. Lauder, both of which were enthusiastically responded to. The men of the Vulture proposed the health of the members of the committee and also of the Superintendent, who, by his personal kindness to all, seemed to be a general favourite with the men. Mr. Fraser proposed and drunk with hearty cheers the health of Captain Morland, to whom they felt specially grateful for several little acts of kindness. Altogether the Christmas dinner at the Home proved very satisfactory to all.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—We hope you will kindly allow the officers in the Sailors' Home and their friends a small space in your valuable columns to express our appreciation for the most kind and amiable manner in which we were treated on Christmas day, and we most heartily thank the committee and Superintendent for the very kind and generous manner in which we were received on that occasion, also expressing a vote of thanks to Captain H. Morland, Captain Brebner, and others of the committee for visiting the dining room while we were at dinner to see if we had every requisite to make us happy and comfortable. We also give our most sincere thanks to Mr. Lauder, the Superintendent, for his kind attentions on that occasion, also hoping he may long be spared to hold the situation which he so ably and satisfactorily fills.

EXTRAORDINARY TREATMENT OF MAJOR BUTLER.

WE regret to hear that the distinguished explorer of the Karen Dagh and Turkistan has been ordered to rejoin his regiment, under circumstances which appear to himself, and to us, harsh and not creditable to the Government of India, which employed him on a peculiarly delicate and dangerous mission, and now shows a disposition apparently to disavow him.

Major F. W. H. Butler, of the 9th Regiment, the officer to whom we refer, is one whose services to the State assuredly deserve public recognition. Employed under the immediate orders of the Governor General of India, he was sent a year ago to explore the little known regions lying between the Caspian Sea and the gates of our Empire. Within that year's space he has surveyed some thousands of miles of country hitherto unknown, has brought back admirable maps of districts which may prove of inestimable value, he has literal'y carried his life in his hand for months together, in regions where the slaughter of an unprotected traveller is regarded rather as a meritorious action; he has undergone trials, fatigue, and exposure which no ordinary man could have survived; and he has returned to India triumphantly successful in the objects for which he was sent, only to be received with marked official disfavour, and to meet, for sole acknowledgment, with a curt order to rejoin his regiment. Not a word of thanks, not an invitation to recount the story of his exertions, not even an offer to reimburse him for the expenses to which he has been put, is tendered to him. What misunderstanding or cause for treatment, on the face of it so unworthy, there may be, we do not know.

We cannot conceive that Lord Lytton should be capable of behaving to an English officer of Major Butler's merit as a Russian Czar behaved to the gallant Viekovich on his return to St. Petersburg from Kabul. It is not yet, we hope, an English custom to repay exceptionally gallant services with contemptuous neglect. Even supposing that the very strong convictions gathered by this energetic traveller, should be unwelcome to the tepid temper of British statesmen, and supposing his political impressions to be opposed to departmental prejudices, we cannot understand why he should be personally neglected or unrewarded. A step in rank, an indulgence of leave, and a liberal reimbursement for expenses incurred, should have been the least return for his good service. Whereas it would appear that he has met with nothing but a most ungracious and chilling absence of all acknowledgment, on all sides, Civil and Military, and has been even left out of pocket as regards travelling expenses.

So patent and obvious was the personal risk and peril dared by Major Butler, that the Government actually took from him an undertaking in writing, that he absolved them from all responsibility in case of his death by violence, before he started in obedience to his orders. He has returned after fulfilling them to the letter, and he is not even thanked. There is gross wrong here, which we trust for England's sake may be righted.—Civil and Military Gazette.

THE KURM COLUMN.

(Special Correspondent of the Englishman.)

Dec. 15, 1878.

THE telegraph will have told you of an unfortunate circumstance that happened yesterday on the march back from Ali Khel to Kurm of a part of the force through a pass south of the Peiwar Kotal. It was determined to explore this pass as an alternative route, that over the Peiwar Kotal being said to be blocked by snow drifts during two months of the winter, and it being important to have constant communication with Ali Khel in order to convey stores to a depot there for the supply of the troops moving forward in the spring. On the 11th, the 2nd and 5th Punjab Infantry marched from Ali Khel by the Piewar Kotal route, reaching Kurm on the 13th, and on the 12th General Roberts and staff with the wing 72nd Highlanders, the 5th Goorkhas, and the Mule Battery left Ali Khel by the more southern pass, arriving here yesterday, after finding the road too rough to be utilized, the ascents and decents being almost too much for laden camels even in fine weather. The Mangal tribe have their villages at the bottom of the Pass, which has never before been traversed by a European, and in old times they made it so hot for the Amir's convoys that the route has long been abandoned by the Afghans. These Mangals could not resist the temptation of making a good bag, and accordingly, from the almost inaccessible perches in the cliffs, first commenced to slate the baggage, and then swept down and succeeded in carrying off a couple of camels belonging to Mahomed Amir, the Commissioner's right hand man. The rear guard of the 5th Goorkhas, under Lieutenant Powell, behaved, as usual, splendidly, and with four Highlanders gave as good an account of the robbers as was possible under the circumstances. Our loss was 3 Goorkhas killed and 7 wounded, and 2 officers, Captain Goad, of the Hyderabad Contingent, Asst. Transport Officer, and Lieutenant Powell, of the Goorkhas, severely wounded. Poor Goad's leg had to be amputated, as the bone above the knee was shattered, the ball passing through his sword. Powell got wounded in the neck and shoulders by one ball and through the lungs by another. The Goorkhas charged to get away one of their wounded, but found the man dead, with three of the enemy's corpses close by. One marksman of the 72nd, who was being carried in a doolie, fired off 62 rounds from his Martini-Henri, and never fired without getting a fair shot; so the Mangals paid for their enterprise.

Captain Goad was moving about amongst his camels, as the transport officers have to be constantly doing on the line of marches, and found himself, with four of the 72nd, suddenly opposed by a hundred Mangals. The five white men got behind a rock and drove the hundred back which says something for the breech-loader in the hands of resolute men.

Some camp-followers also suffered. The Bazaar Chowdry of the 23rd Pioneers, who had been in the regiment since the China war, was sitting with three of the bazaar people over a fire, when, being beckoned by some Mangals, they confidently approached and were at once killed. The Chowdry is severely wounded, but the others were killed. The road to Thull is not as secure as the Calcutta course; an ambuscade was laid for a small party of the 5th P. C. the other day by some dozen men who, after firing and wounding a horse, decamped. However, in this wild country this sort of thing must be expected, and it is a sort of negative comfort to find that these robbers are quite impartial, and used to treat the Amir's people as they have treated us.

THE STAFF APPOINTMENTS IN THE FRONTIER COLUMNS.

(Englishman.)

WE had no desire to criticise too severely the appointments to the staff of the army of invasion into Afghanistan, though some of them were a little remarkable and far from being satisfactory from any point of view. But, as it is possible that the operations may be of protracted duration, requiring frequent additions to and changes in the staff, the most recent nomination to it has decided us to review those appointments, and we hope that the Commander-in-Chief, or the personage or persons responsible for them, will not be above taking a hint for a future more satisfactory and discriminating use of patronage. The "Take care of Dowb" principle is bad enough in time of peace, but in times of war it is worse than bad, it is iniquitous. We will begin by remarking that many people were sufficiently startled at some of the selections for commands of divisions, columns and brigades. In no other people do not like experiments in the matter of commands. Nor is this to be wondered at. The experienced and tried officer secures more confidence, and will as a rule be a better commander, than the untried, and inexperienced General. Do we make Generals and give them commands of divisions and brigades that they may be Generals and exercise command only in times of peace? It looks very like it, as, although we have in this Presidency six General Officers in command of divisions, and four others in actual command of brigades, yet, from out of these sixteen, only four have been found worthy of selection for command in the present field operations, the remaining fifteen officers commanding divisions and infantry brigades of the Afghanistan army being, with few exceptions, Generals only pro hac vice; whilst the whole thirteen of them are commanding divisions and brigades in the field before they have learned to exercise similar commands on the parade ground. First, we have Lieutenant-General Sir S. Browne, who is given the most important command. Of the men he has been preferred over, we will notice one, and ask why Lieutenant-General Crawford Chamberlain was passed over? He is a man of mark in the annals of Indian warfare; he began his military career in Afghanistan; and he certainly cannot be said to be one whit behind his more fortunate junior in either energy or capacity. He was considered by many the fittest, after his brother Sir Neville, by the British and Indian public, and when his supposed appointment to the command of the Khaibar force became known, it was hailed by the whole Press with satisfaction. But he is not one of the Simla elect, and although possessing the experience derived from the command of a brigade and then a division which he yet holds, he is passed by in favour of a General by the soldier's struck up the melody the "Roast Beef of Old England." The bill of fare was ample enough to please and dainty enough to delight the most fastidious of tastes. Several loyal and complimentary toasts were drunk. The "Queen," and the patron of the Home, H. R. H. the Duke of Edinburgh, were proposed by Captain Brebner, which were heartily responded to by the men. The toasts of the Army and Navy were not forgotten. TASMANIA—EXPERIENCES OF A RETIRED OFFICER.

To the Editor of the Deccan Herald.

SIR,—I have purposely abstained hitherto from hurrying into any account of our proceedings in this colony, as I felt that to do so immediately on arrival might lead one to record merely first impressions, which would subsequently need too much modification. Now, however, that we have been here some months, and I see in your columns and those of other Indian papers that the subject of Tasmania has much interest for many of your readers, I will venture to send you our experiences, although it is but little I have to detail that can interest other than personal friends in India. Since however I have a pretty large circle of friends and acquaintances in your part of the world, and many of them have asked me to let them know how we find matters out here, I gladly avail myself of the medium of your columns, to send some short account that may do for them all. Our party consisted of my wife and self and five children, in steps from eight years old to about as many months. We bade farewell to our good old native servants at the Mazagon Bunder, Bombay, determined to manage for the children ourselves on boardship and we did so. We embarked on board the Tanjore on the 28th March, 1878, and had a rapid and comfortable voyage with regard to which I would merely remark that it might have been pleasanter had the Commander and Officers of the vessel been less exclusive to themselves and more inclined to be agreeable to the passengers. We arrived at Williams Town on the 24th April, and preferred staying there to going up the river to Melbourne as from all accounts the city itself is so expensive as to hotel charges. We secured comfortable rooms at the Dock Hotel, Williams Town, and would strongly recommend any one who may follow us out here to go there, the charges being moderate and every thing very nice. We only took our light baggage to the hotel. The heavy packing went on by rail and got it out of the Custom-house (no duty to pay,) and took it at once in a dray straight away to the little steamer Argyll, which was lying at Queen's wharf, and put it on board. I had to pay 15 shillings for excess baggage from Williams Town to Melbourne, and the cart cost me half as much more to take the boxes from the Custom house to the wharf. I was cheated, of course, as all new arrivals invariably are at Melbourne, the proper fare being a third of what I paid, as I learnt afterwards; but as the man asked a pound at the time I flattered myself I had got off pretty well.

I do not feel justified in saying much about Melbourne, as we passed so rapidly through it, but I could not help being struck with the manner of the people I met, which did not prepossess me in its favour. There was the same hot haste that characterises the Londoner in the real old money making city, but far more greed and insolence written in the faces of the Colonial lower order than is usually met with in the mother country.

People will, if asked civilly, stop to tell you the way even in the vicinity of the Royal Exchange or Bank of England, but I accosted some half dozen men in Melbourne before I could get one to reply to my question, which was the way to "Elizabeth" street. At last one fellow did deign to answer; but without stopping pointed to a large building and said, "you see that there hotel? will go right up there, turn to the right, and can't help missing it." I did go up there, and sure enough I did miss it, as it was in a diametrically opposite direction, which caused me a delay of half an hour, and I missed the next train back to Williams Town in consequence. However I secured our passages by the Argyll at the office of Lyell Gowan & Co., Elizabeth street, and would here mention that it only cost us £8-8-0 for our whole party and baggage (of 36 boxes) instead of £14 each as we had heard in India. On the 26th April we went on board the little steamer and made an excellent passage across Bass' Straits, reaching Circular Head, Tasmania, early on the morning of the 27th. The scenery was lovely. Bold cliffs, with verdure running down to the water's edge, and the sea below of a deep emerald green. The township is picturesque; the view on the far side of the bay peculiar, and to us novel, for the white masses in the distance which we took for cliffs, turned out to be forests of dead gum trees.

From Circular Head we had a delightful run up the North coast of the island, passing Emu Bay and other townships, and reached the Mersey by evening the same date, anchoring at the Mill wharf on the Torquay side of the river. It was a dark rainy night, so we remained on board the steamer till the next morning. We had expected some friends to meet us on arrival, but as they were unable to keep the appointment we did not meet with a bright reception. However, we got a letter recommending us to a boarding-house at Torquay, kept by a lady which we did as soon as I could get a dray and it stopped raining. It took us till nearly (colonial) dinner time, one o'clock, to accomplish this little journey, since in this place, very properly termed "Sloepy Hollow," people do not trouble themselves to rise early, and the owner of the dray could not be induced to hurry himself. I only put the light baggage and some of the infantin into the dray; the rest of us walked, and the heavy baggage remained at the mill, to await Claude's the agent for the steam Company, who was most kind and obliging, took charge of it until we could get settled, and came himself with us to show the way through Torquay to our lodging which was over a mile from the mill.

We stayed at the boarding house in Torquay for ten days, during which time we busied oursel

HAMILTON AND CO.'S SELECTED INDIAN NOVELTIES FOR FRIENDS AT HOME.

HAMILTON & Co.'s SPECIALITE TIGER CLAW JEWELLERY.—We may claim with propriety as a specialite of our own,—for we have not only been very successful with it, but, as we believe, we were the first Firm in India to mount the claws in the taste of Europe. Our Stock of these goods, which is large and varied, is prepared entirely by ourselves. These quaint ornaments are not only appreciated in this country, but are beginning to be much admired and worn in England, forming, as they do, a choice and unique gift for a friend at home. Selections from Stock, and designs, will be sent to Mofussil applicants.

HAMILTON & Co.'s SILVER CASHMERE WARE, made to our especial order in Cashmere itself, of pure Silver and richly gilt with pure Gold. The ornamentation of these beautiful goods is in a style peculiar to the artizans of the Happy Valley. The delicate and elaborate chasing, which is further brought into prominence by being richly gilt, suggests the well-known Pine-apple pattern so noticeable in Cashmere Shawls. The list comprises Surroys and Claret Jugs, Tumblers, Mugs, Goblets, Salvers, Tankards, Muffineers, Napkin Rings, Crosses, Pendants, &c.

HAMILTON & Co.'s TRICHINOPOLY JEWELLERY, of rich colored Gold, elaborately chased in the usual well-known style.
